

Andreja Stanojević from Vlasotince

Andreja grew up in a family living in modest circumstances and relying on social assistance. Despite the challenges he has faced, he has always tried to make education his priority, believing that it is the key to a better future. He completed the IT program at the “Mihajlo Pupin” School of Electrical Engineering in Novi Sad and successfully enrolled at the Faculty of Electrical Engineering in Belgrade. He has been interested in computers and technology since childhood, which is why he wanted to continue his education in the field of information technology.

“I would like to thank you from the bottom of my heart for all the support you have given me over the past four years. Your support has meant a great deal to me and has been a strong encouragement to keep working hard and believing in myself. I am proud to say that I successfully completed high school and enrolled at university, and I owe part of that success to you as well.

Thank you for standing by me and for believing in my hard work and potential. I am truly grateful for everything and wish you good health, happiness, and continued success in your work.”
